

Is it OK for the photovoltaic panel to have a slope of 21 degrees

 LFP 48V 100Ah

Overview

The appropriate slope for solar panels is typically between 30 to 45 degrees, but it can vary depending on latitude, desired energy efficiency, and local climate conditions. The angle of installation plays a critical role in optimizing the sunlight absorption throughout the year. This guide explains how roof pitch, geographic location, seasonal sun angles, and mounting strategies determine the ideal tilt for photovoltaic (PV) systems in the United States. However, if you lived in New York City, NY, where your latitude averages about 40.
