

Photovoltaic panels with oil stains

Overview

Ever noticed that weird rainbow sheen on your photovoltaic panels that makes them look like they've been working part-time at a burger joint?

That's oil film contamination, and yes, it can absolutely be removed - but there's more to this greasy situation than meets the eye. But there are some stains on panels (some panels). What do you think, are they something to. In the event of oil leaking under solar panels, the most critical step is to conduct a thorough inspection to ascertain the origin of the leak. Ensuring safety is paramount, as oil leakage could indicate electrical issues or compromised solar panel setups, prompting users to engage qualified. □Powerful Concentrated Formula□Say goodbye to stubborn dirt with our professional-grade solar panel cleaner! This high-concentration formula delivers superior cleaning power - simply dilute 1:50 for light cleaning or 1:20-1:30 for tough stains. You will need to experiment with different solvents. With the right materials and proper technique, you can s s as irritating as looking at oil-stained concrete.
